

TO FORCE
JERSEYITESNew York Express Drivers
Are Anxious

TO EFFECT A SETTLEMENT

Mayor Gaynor Declares if Jerseyites Do
Not Accept, the Police Will Be Used to Help the Companies
Win the Strike.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 12.—The effort will be made this afternoon to force the New Jersey express driver strikers to accept the terms of settlement the New York drivers have tentatively agreed to. The Jerseyites refused settlement on any terms without closed shops. A committee of New Yorkers will urge them to accept the New Yorkers' settlement. Mayor Gaynor is angry at the failure to complete the settlement and declared today that if the New York drivers don't settle now the police will be used to aid the companies to win the strike.

When the decision of the Jersey men became known to the brotherhood officials on this side of the Hudson yesterday, General Organizer Ashton called on Mayor Gaynor. At the end of the conference, which was brief, Mr. Ashton had nothing to say, but Mayor Gaynor expressed himself succinctly.

"They can reject the agreement if they want to," he said. "But I beg to say that a committee of their own selection came to me voluntarily, with no request of mine, and made an honorable agreement. If the men reject that honorable agreement, I shall teach them that express wagons can be run without their help, even if we have to man every one of them with police."

In the present confused state of the strike, Judge Cose in the United States circuit court decided yesterday that all express wagons may be run in this city under the conditions that have hitherto obtained—that is, without municipal licenses—until the status of a driver in charge of interstate express matter has been fixed. A further hearing will be held next Friday.

TROUBLE IS KEENLY REGRETTED.

American Ambassador Satisfied With Efforts of Mexican Government.

Washington, Nov. 12.—American citizens in Mexico have been cautioned by United States Ambassador H. L. Wilson to refrain from acts of violence because he is convinced that the Mexican government is exerting its best efforts to suppress the anti-American riots. Mr. Wilson telegraphed the state department yesterday that he anticipated no further violence, and that the American embassy was being carefully protected. He reported the arrest of fifty-one men for acts of disorder.

Several interviews have been held between Secretary of State Knox and Señor de la Barra, the Mexican ambassador, in regard to the situation which has arisen from the lynching of the Mexican, Rodriguez, at Rock Springs, Tex., Nov. 3. There is no doubt that both governments keenly regret the trouble. Every effort is being made to protect Mexican citizens in Texas. Gov. Campbell reported to the state department yesterday. He said that he anticipated no further trouble and that the lynching of Rodriguez was being thoroughly investigated. All possible assistance is being given the Mexican consul at Eagle Pass, who is endeavoring to identify those responsible for the lynching.

Cases in 14 Counties in Michigan—State Troops Quarantine Guards.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 12.—With small-pox reported in 30 localities in 14 counties of Michigan and state troops ordered to assist quarantine guards at the state home for the feeble minded at Lapeer, health officials in every part of the lower peninsula are engaged in a desperate fight to prevent the further spread of the scourge.

Conditions at the Lapeer home are pathetic in the extreme, most of the inmates being children of defective mentality. Twenty-five cases of the disease have been reported at this institution and six deaths.

One inmate of the Lapeer home escaped yesterday and last night it was expected that the Flint company of the state militia, which was ordered to Lapeer yesterday by Governor Warner, would arrive on the scene.

Saginaw was the largest city in the state to be seriously affected by the epidemic. Nearly two score deaths were reported there within a month and schools and churches were closed. Motive Unknown.

The prosecution investigating Schenk's illness is twofold, but surely, weaving guilt about his doctor and a salesman. Schenk was poisoned in prepared drinking water and it is declared that one ignorant of drugs could not have worked so slowly undetected. An analysis of the water revealed the presence of arsenic. The prosecution is now seeking motive for the act of a young man prominent in society. SWORE AT
AVERILL

Did Mrs. Averill in Ordering Him

OUT OF THE HOUSE

Mrs. Averill Again on the Stand This Morning, But Maintains Her Self-possession Until Excused.

St. Albans, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Averill, on the stand at the opening of the Averill case in court here this morning, although calm for the most part, at one time seemed near collapse. From time to time, as she was giving her answers, she looked directly at the jury as if she realized that her fate rested in their hands. After leaving the stand she cried aloud for several moments. She was questioned principally as to her life with Averill in Massachusetts. She was cross-examined regarding the woman with whom Averill was living when the respondent went to their home, in Cambridge as a servant. She said that she and Mr. Averill did not often talk of her. When asked if she had ever heard of their getting a divorce, she said she had not.

Letters between the Averills, which were accepted yesterday as exhibits, were read in court this forenoon. This was in line with the rest of the policy of the defense to show the attitude between the two of loving husband and wife.

Adjutant General Lee S. Tillotson, who was in the same company with Averill in the Spanish-American war, testified as to the character of Averill. He said he was not the kind of a man to quarrel and that he would go out of his way to help a friend.

Mrs. John Bird, a close friend of the Averills, was called next, and testified that in her opinion there was a great deal of affection between them, up to the very night of the shooting. In cross-examination by Attorney General Sargent, the woman became considerably confused. She testified that she had never heard unpleasant words between the Averills, but finally, in reply to a question from the attorney general, regarding the woman's testimony before the grand jury, she admitted that in going unexpectedly to the Averill home one day, she heard Mrs. Averill say, with an oath, "Get out or I'll put you out."

She said Averill laughed, but did get out. She also testified that she had heard the woman swear at him at other times. She further testified that Mrs. Averill did not appear to be angry, but when Mr. Sargent asked her if she had not, in answer to the same question, before the grand jury, stated that "she looked as if she was," she said "Yes." The witness then said when she entered the house that day, Mrs. Averill said to her, "You didn't know you were going to witness such words as these."

When Mrs. Bird answered, "No," Mrs. Averill said "That's nothing at all."

Mr. Austin, attorney for the defense, attempted to show that there was no appearance of malice in Mrs. Averill's swearing at her husband. Mrs. Bird said she "did not attach any importance to it."

At 10:15, recess was taken until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

At the opening of the afternoon session yesterday, Mrs. Averill was on the stand again and Attorney General Sargent began questioning her about her life with Mr. Averill and "Blanche" in Cambridge. The witness became confused and more confused and her answers became less and less clear and at variance with some of her previous statements. As she saw that she was getting deeper and deeper into the maze, she became so excited and confused that Mr. Sargent said he would not continue along that tack.

It was evident that the woman was about to collapse and the witness tried to get her just in time to catch her as she fell forward. She regained her strength sufficiently to rise but on getting to her feet and while being helped from the court room she fell again to the floor and had to be carried to the witness room. Medical aid was summoned and it was apparent that she would be unable to resume her testimony during the afternoon.

She became hysterical and her moans and groans could be heard in the court room. As she lay on the floor she repeatedly said in a loud voice, "I can't tell everything, oh, I can't tell everything," and "My God, I have done nothing wrong." It was necessary to give the woman a hypodermic. About three-quarters of an hour later she returned to the court room and resumed her customary seat between her two attorneys.

Charles Page of Stunape, N. H., was called after things had settled down. Mr. Page was a friend of the Averills and the two families had exchanged visits. He had never heard of any trouble between the respondent and her husband and they always appeared to be on good terms.

Dr. E. A. Hyatt, recalled, testified that the action of Mrs. Averill toward the husband, the time he attended the wounded man was such that she apparently loved and respected him.

FARMERS' MEETING

In Montpelier—The Apple Symposium Proved Instructive.

There was a good attendance yesterday at the forenoon and afternoon sessions of the first of a series of agricultural meetings to be held in Montpelier, under the auspices of the board of trade.

The exhibit of apples was interesting, among them being a box of Northern Spies, which won the sweepstakes prizes at this year's Vermont horticultural show. These apples retail at ten cents each in New York and $1 a dozen. There was a large variety of this fruit shown. Other interesting exhibits were color photographs on glass of apple orchards, trees, etc.

The conference was opened by Fred E. Gleason, secretary of the board of trade, his subject being "The Montpelier Board of Trade and Its Relation to Agricultural Progress." He was followed by George W. Perry of South Hero, a recognized expert in apple raising. His subject was "Modern Methods of Growing and Packing Apples." He said the demand today was for fruit put up attractively. Apples of ordinary grade will continue to be packed in barrels, but there will be a ready sale and fancy price for fancy products in fancy packages.

He spoke of the necessary care in the setting out of trees, their spraying and pruning, and closed with the prophetic: "In 15 years or so, the only apple trees worth mentioning in New England will be the trees that were set out and protected and cared for intelligently, just as any other farm crop is cared for. In 20 years, 50 well-kept trees on an acre will be worth $1,000."

T. L. Kinney of South Hero, another expert apple raiser, spoke on "Co-operative Apple Work." He urged cultivation and scientific work in the orchard and went into detail in explaining his method of setting, trimming and spraying trees.

A. W. Allen of Barre concluded the morning session with a talk, which was given on the program as "Apple Sauce," and was in humorous vein.

The afternoon attendance was larger than in the morning, and Professor M. B. Cummings of Burlington was the first speaker, taking as his subject "Principles of Orchard Management." He discussed fertilization, cultivation, pruning, trimming, spraying and the application of business methods to farming.

Walter H. Crockett of Montpelier spoke in behalf of the consumer and made a plea for honest packing, honest labor and honest quality. Charles T. Holmes of Charlotte, the most experienced apple man in Vermont, answered questions rapidly and showed wide understanding of his business. P. H. O'Connor of North Cabot, who was formerly connected with the Minnesota state college, gave an important talk on the brown-tail and gypsy moth, of which he had specimens and urged that more attention be paid by farmers to protecting their trees from this pest. The meeting closed with an exhibition by George W. Perry of proper packing of a box of fancy fruit.

EXPRESS OFFICE ROBBED

AT RANDOLPH

Case of Whiskey and Other Articles Taken, Part of Which Have Been Recovered.

Randolph, Nov. 12.—The express office at this station was broken into last night at a late hour and one case of whiskey and other articles taken. Three men first called at the office and inquired of the operator if he would send a telegram. Later in the talk they asked if he had a revolver and tried to get into the office. Finally they produced a bar of security with which they tried the door open and procured the goods, part of which have been recovered from down the track. No money was taken as the operator succeeded in keeping them out of the ticket office and the goods were taken from the office outside. The police are out for the parties who have not yet been found.

WILL SUPPORT CENTRAL VERMONT

Brattleboro Citizens Adopt Resolution to That Effect.

Brattleboro, Nov. 12.—At a meeting of the citizens of Brattleboro held yesterday in Festival hall, a resolution was passed pledging the support of the townspeople toward securing the charter of the Central Vermont railroad, which would enable that road to parallel the Boston & Maine between Brattleboro and Windsor. The resolution included the condition that such a charter must safeguard the rights of the Boston & Maine railroad in this town.

The resolution was practically identical with one adopted at a citizens' meeting Monday, when Boston & Maine officials announced authoritatively that their road would build a track between South Vernon and Brattleboro to parallel the Central Vermont rather than the Boston & Maine.

At the meeting held yesterday Vice President E. H. Fitzgerald of the Central Vermont, General Manager George C. Jones and C. W. Witters and Judge H. H. Powers were present. Mr. Fitzgerald and the two attorneys explained the necessity of securing such a charter as they ask if the Boston & Maine is granted a charter to build between South Vernon and Brattleboro.

The officials explained that under the present traffic arrangement with the Boston & Maine, whereby the Boston & Maine road pays a rental for the use of the tracks of the Central Vermont between this place and South Vernon and the Central Vermont pays a rental for the use of the tracks of the Boston & Maine between Brattleboro and Windsor, the Boston & Maine road ought to be satisfied. The Central Vermont officials say that if the Boston & Maine build their own road between Brattleboro and South Vernon they will also get around the 14 miles from Windsor to White River Junction which will mean that the Central Vermont loses any revenue from a traffic arrangement.

The Central Vermont officials acknowledged that the Boston & Maine had the New England end of the Grand Trunk system by the throat and asked that Brattleboro people lend their aid to safeguard the Central Vermont interests so far as is consistent and honorable.

Mrs. Teophista Concha Pleads Guilty

BEFORE JUDGE SCOTT

Concha House Was Raided on Disclosure of Joseph Murray and Half Barrel of Beer Seized—Fred Brassaw a Witness.

Mrs. Teophista Concha pleaded guilty in the city court this morning to one offense of illegal selling, and Judge Scott imposed a fine of $300 with costs of $21.42. The half barrel of ale which was seized at the Concha house on Nov. 4 was condemned and ordered destroyed, and Mrs. Concha was held to pay additional costs in this case of $15.51, making a total fine and costs of $336.93, which she paid.

On a disclosure made in city court by Joseph Murray, the Concha house was raided and a half barrel of beer seized. Mrs. Concha was arrested, and the case was set for a hearing this morning. City Attorney J. Ward Carver prosecuted the case, and E. L. Scott and M. M. Gordon appeared for the respondent. The hearing was started this morning, and before the first witness had finished testifying the defense decided to enter a plea of guilty, which was done, and the witness went out and got her money. Fred Brassaw was the witness put on the stand, and he admitted that he was at the Concha house with Murray and they both got some beer there. As Brassaw and Murray both have court records, the defense decided that the case was hopeless and requested that the hearing be stopped.

REUNITED AFTER 43 YEARS.

Cornelius Laine Is Home Again After Long Absence.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 12.—For 43 years the Manchester directory has carried the name of "Lane, Mary, widow," which was that of an estimable woman living at 413 Cedar street, recently reunited to her husband, who is a Civil war veteran.

Mrs. Laine, for so the name should be spelled, was married soon after the war to Cornelius Laine, a soldier in the 8th New Hampshire regiment, who was wounded at Port Hudson, La., May 27, 1863, and was mustered out April 18, 1864. Laine, who was born in Ireland, was mustered into the service as a member of Co. G, Dec. 23, 1861, at the age of 18 years.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Laine occurred in 1867, at St. Anne's church, during the pastorate of the Rev. Fr. O'Donnell. Mr. Laine went to California and Mrs. Laine became convinced of his death and for years considered herself a widow until a short time ago when, through the pension office, the couple became aware that each was living.

The result was that Mr. Laine came to Manchester this week and is now united with his wife.

BOSTON WAIF IN NEW YORK.

Neil McNeil, Deserted by Brother, Is Picked Up by Police.

New York, Nov. 12.—"My brother has deserted me and I am all alone," was the cry of 12-year-old Neil McNeil of Boston introduced himself yesterday morning to traffic officer John McMan at the corner of Houston and West streets. The child was taken before Justice William E. Wyatt of the children's court. After telling his story, the boy was given to the Children's society to be held until the officers of the society can communicate with possible relatives in Boston.

The little fellow said he and his 15-year-old brother had run away from their home in Boston, leaving there last Sunday. They had little money, and soon it was all spent and the children were left penniless. They slept wherever they could find temporary shelter. Yesterday the older boy deserted his brother and left him waiting at once of the ferries on the west side. Becoming tired, Neil wandered off in search of assistance and happened upon officer McMan.

HIS BODY LEANING
AGAINST THE DOOR

Burton F. French Found Dead In His Room On Dix Place Early This Morning.

Alarmed by strange noises which he had heard during the night, James Glass, residing at 3 Dix street, went upstairs this morning shortly before seven o'clock and was shocked to find the dead body of one of his boarders, Burton F. French, leaning against the door leading into his room. Mr. Glass saw at a glance that the man was dead, and at once summoned Dr. M. D. Lamb, city health officer. After a careful examination, Dr. Lamb expressed a belief that the man had been dead about forty-five minutes and that death resulted from alcoholism. State's Attorney Benjamin Gates was notified at Montpelier and permission was obtained to remove the body to Badger's undertaking rooms for embalming.

French was a man about forty years old and came to this city from East Barre. For the past four years he has been employed as a blacksmith by Charles Bianchi & Sons. He came to the Glass home four weeks ago and hired a room. He appeared to be a man of good habits and was possessed of an amiable disposition. It is known that he had not worked steadily for the past few weeks. When found this morning he was only partially dressed, and had evidently arisen from the bed to leave the room for some purpose, when death overtook him at the door.

Glass says that the groans and stifled cries were emitted from the room early last evening and continued at intervals during the night. Early this morning, however, the noises ceased, and he resolved to enter the room should French fail to appear at his usual hour of rising. He had already decided that the man must have been in awful agony and how far right his conclusions were, revealed themselves at seven o'clock this morning.

The dead man is survived by a daughter, Miss Armida French, who resides at the home of Mrs. Enoch Campbell in East Barre; two sisters, Mrs. Arthur McAllister of East Barre, and Mrs. Clayton French, whose home is Baltimore, Md. The latter, however, was on his way to Barre for a short visit at the time of his brother's death, and is expected to arrive in the city today. French's wife died six years ago. Although no definite arrangements have been made, it is thought that the body now resting in Badger's undertaking rooms, will be taken to East Barre.
